Sponsored by Cornell Cooperative Extension of Saratoga County,

 Town of Saratoga with support from the Saratoga County
 Agricultural and Farmland Protection Board

*This is an active dairy farm. Please be responsible for your children at all times!
 Handwash stations are available near animal exhibits and the food area.*

Welcome to Hanehan Family Dairy Farm!

The cows at Hanehan Family Dairy produce approximately 42,000 pounds of milk every day. This is equivalent to 4,833 gallons or 84,000 half-pints! Each cow on the farm produces an average of 24,000 pounds of milk each year.

The cows are milked in a milking parlor twice per day. It takes 7 hours to milk all 600+ cows. The milk is held on the farm in a 6,500 gallon bulk tank in the milk house. It is picked up every day and shipped to Agri-Mark, a New England-based dairy farmer owned cooperative. The milk is primarily processed into Cabot Dairy Products.

The farm, which has been operated by the Hanehan family since 1946, was one of the first farms in Saratoga County to participate in New York's Farmland Protection Program. The farm has permanently conserved 97 acres of land located across from the Saratoga National Cemetery on Duell Road. American Farmland Trust, Open Space Project and the town of Saratoga were all involved in this pilot project for Saratoga County.

Thank you to the Hanehan Family, the volunteers, and the many contributors who make this event happen!

Why should we support Saratoga County farms?

Saratoga County has more than 400 family-owned farms and 70,000 acres of farmland. But in the past four decades, we have lost nearly 25 percent of the county's farmland. That's the fastest rate of farmland loss in the Capital Region.

When we lose our farms, we lose all the benefits they provide: scenic landscapes and open space, access to fresh local farm products, rural heritage and wildlife habitat. Farms add more than $100 million annually to Saratoga County's economy and contribute greatly to our tourism industry.

You can help! Support local farmers:

- Shop at local produce stands, farmers' markets and pick-your-own farms
- Encourage your town board to support programs that help keep farmers in business and protect farmland
- Be friendly toward farmers and understanding about farm practices
- Show your children how food is produced—take them to farm events like this one
